Boro' Council Contributes $50 Toward Expenses Of the Affair

HEAR POLICE REPORT

Traffic Light Bid Rejected As Being Over $300

LANGHORNE, Dec. 15—Bid for installation of traffic lights were rejected by Borough Council at the meeting held last evening. Police report read and other business transacted at the session held in the council chambers. Arthur S. Walker presided in the absence of the president, Paul B. Bennet. George Mathers, burgess, reported that in his inspection of the borough he found that a lot of trees are in need of being removed as they are dangerous and ready to fall.

The street committee chairman, John R. May, reported that the trees would be removed in the very near future. The streets of the borough are all in the process of being repaired where needed. The reply to the state will go ahead with its plans for state owned highways in the borough.

Chief of Police William E. Arnwine gave the following report: 12 stop sign violations; two parking against traffic violations; one violation of operating a vehicle without an operator's license; one accident investigated; one investigation of a window broken in the barber shop of Joseph Hamilton and the shop set on fire. Investigation of another property broken into and set on fire by two boys.

Chief Arnwine stated that a stop sign should be erected at the corner of Richardson avenue and Cherry street. Council decided to have the sign placed.

Chairman of the property committee, Arthur S. Walker, reported that the post office officials had asked to have a load of stones placed in the road for the employees to park their cars. He stated that the reason for the needed parking area is the increase in the number of employees due to the new routes placed in the Langhorne section.

Secretary William Palmer reported that the borough was asked to donate for the Langhorne-Pennel celebration to be held during Christmas week. Senator Edward Martin will speak at the celebration and the banquet to be held December 27th.

Council members discussed the coming celebration and what it will mean to the borough and decided to donate $50 to the fund for the celebration.

Only one bid was received for the installation of the traffic light to be erected at the intersection of Bellevue avenue and Maple avenue. The bid was received from George P. Bailey and Sons, Bristol, for the sum of $1357.28. The bid was rejected on the advice of the Eagle Signal Company that the price on the material was over $300. The project of the traffic lights was turned over to the Street Committee for further investigation and figures.

Discussion on having a full time police officer was held and it was decided to hold this problem in abeyance, until the next regular meeting when the police committee will have more facts and figures on the problem.

Wouldja Believe It?

(By "The Stroller")
Tullytown borough is asking for applicants for part-time duty as police officers. Two men are wanted for this service. Who would have thought, a few months ago, that little Tullytown would be organizing a police department. Now Tullytown, like all other communities in this area, is confronted with traffic and safety problems.

Tullytown residents are determined to take care of their own. They are prepared to fight to retain their P. R. R. passenger station and not let it slip into any other community, and thus lose their identity.

Fraternal Order of Police Meeting in New Home

Bucks County Fraternal Order of Police Lodge No. 53, on Wednesday evening had the first formal meeting in the new home in Edgely. The meeting was attended by police officers from various sections of Bucks county and was presided over by President Edward Bateman of Newtown.

The home leased to the lodge by the Borough of Bristol has been rebuilt by the members to become a beautiful club house. The rooms have been painted a light antique green trimmed in white.

The home contains a large club room with a shuffleboard, dart board, player piano, radio and upholstered chairs and sofas.

The kitchen has a gas stove, new cabinet sink and an electric refrigerator, along with a new paint job. The floors of the club are done in asphalt tile and are in contrast with the painted walls. Intentions are for the coming summer of making an improved bathing beach to care for the family of the members.

Two new active members were taken into the lodge: Chief of Police Raymond Hoagland of Yardley, and Patrolman Charles Shaw of the Bristol Township Police Department. Five active members took the oath of allegiance to the lodge and were welcomed by President Bateman.

After the meeting refreshments were served and the members made use of the lodge recreation equipment. All members were pleased with the work accomplished on the new home.

BOYS' CHOIR SINGS AT WOMEN'S CLUB PARTY

St. Francis Singers Are Led in Several Numbers by Brother Gratian

SEND GIFTS TO "VETS"

The Christmas message in song and story made a happy Yuletide party for Travel Club members yesterday afternoon. There were gathered for the occasion, in the club home, young boys who sang for the clubwomen; and four smaller children, who by their presence on the stage during recitation of "Why the Chimes Rang," added to the Christmas spirit.

Thirty-one boys from St. Francis Industrial School, Edgely, formed the choir under direction of Brother Gratian, with Brother John at the piano. They delighted as they sang in Latin, Greek or English the following numbers: Introit of the Mass; Kyrie Eleison; Silent Night; Adeste Fideles; The Snow Lay on the Ground; O Holy Night; and Heart of the Holy Child.

The story hour featured the reading of "Why the Chimes Rang," the narrator being Mrs. George B. Hood. Seated on the floor, in front of Mrs. Hood, listening as she read, were Jean Moyer, Martha Hood, Eric Longbottom, and Charles Donald Moyer. Music accompaniment throughout this presentation was by Mrs. William Hakes.

Mrs. Walter W. Pitkonka, who announced the numbers, had with other members of the welfare committee, arranged the program which proved to be a thoroughly delightful one. Mrs. Adolph Ancker is chairman of this committee.

When Santa Claus (Mrs. Harry Neher) arrived with a pack, there was found in the bottom a package for each of the four small children on the platform. The children, in turn, helped the club members fill Santa's pack with gifts provided by members, and which Santa promised to take at once to Korean war veterans who are patients at Byberry Hospital, Phila.

These gifts were mentioned by club president, Mrs. Robert D. Brooks, in summarizing welfare activities of the club during the past four weeks, others being the raising of about $500 for Lower Bucks Co. hospital pledge; and the sending of two CARE packages to Korea. "You can enjoy the season with the keen satisfaction of having entered into the real Christmas spirit," she said in wishing the members joys of the Yuletide. Mrs. Albert Dowden and Mrs. Howard Pocht respectively, informed of results of the concert and card party which increased funds for hospital donation. Prayer for peace was offered by Mrs. George E. Boswell.

Mrs. Edward Kelber, who transferred from the Junior Travel Club, was presented to the membership. The serving of refreshments in a most attractive setting—lighted candles and evergreens—concluded the afternoon. Presiding at the table were Mrs. Alfred E. Lewis and Mrs. Harold N. Crooker.

NO MATINEE TODAY

There will be no matinee at the Grand Theatre to-day due to Rohm & Haas Social Club having a Christmas party for children in the theatre. The regular show will be held this evening.

LEVITTOWN HOUSE SALES DURING PAST WEEK TOTAL NEARLY FIVE MILLION DOLLARS; $100 IS DEPOSITED ON EACH OF 498 DWELLINGS

Sales totaling nearly $5,000,000 in Levittown continue at this level—and I have every reason to believe it will—our 1952 production schedule of 5,000 homes will be sold out before the first house is built next spring," William J. Levitt, president of the firm, said.

To meet the demand, the company may increase its 1952 building timetable to 6,000 units, provided production problems can be solved. Levitt added. This would increase by 1,000 the all-time, home-building record for one year, set by the firm at Levittown, N. Y., in 1950, he explained.

Public acceptance of the Bucks County home-building program within the shadow of the United States Steel's huge Fairless Works is "the most phenomenal thing I have seen in 22 years in this business," Levitt said.

"We just about made as many sales per day in Bucks County this week as we made per week in Long Island last summer at the height of the home-building season," Levitt said yesterday at the building site on Route 13, a few miles south of Morrisville.

Applications for Levittown are being received at the model home exhibition building which opened last Saturday. The exhibit will remain open seven days a week from 10 a. m. until six p. m. throughout the winter.

SCHOOL CHOIR GIVES CONCERT BEFORE CLUB
Delights Exchangeites And Their Wives With A Yuletide Program

RYGLEWICZ DIRECTS
In the auditorium of Bristol Lodge of Elks, Thursday evening, Bristol high school choir presented a program for members of the Exchange Club and their wives. Nelson Green opened the ceremonies and welcomed the 35 students who gave the concert. They wore their gowns of maroon and grey.

Andrew MacArthur led the combined choirs of students and Exchange Club in singing "The First Noel" (Stainer), "Silent Night" (Gruber) and "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing" (Mendelssohn). Dr. Thomas Fannin presided at the piano.

Mr. Green then introduced Edward M. Ryglewicz, Jr., choir leader, and musical director at Bristol high school. Appreciation of the dignity and sincerity of the choristers was expressed by the audience. Wayne Zarr, 15-year-old student, sang "Comfort Ye My People" (Handel), accompanied by Eleanor Scheetz, pianist. The latter sang a solo with fine control of the many variations in the score of "Rejoice Oh Daughters of Zion." Eleanor Schell presided at the piano.

A mixed octet, Joyce Versprilla, Martha Berglund, sopranos; Hilda M. Hamm, Joanne Argust, altos; Louis White, James Booz, tenors; Albert Eelman, Branch Pollard, basses, delighted with the rendition "Bless Oh Lover of My Soul".

The choir, at this time, presented an entirely new repertoire, and the selections were thoroughly enjoyed by everyone in attendance.

Supintendent of schools Warren P. Snyder, and principal of Bristol high school David Hertzler announced arrangement of a plan of continued singing during the week, and the vespers service tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock.

ROHM & HAAS PARTY HELD IN TWO SECTIONS

Number of Children of The Employees Has Increased To 1,450

HAVE GIFTS FOR ALL

So large has the group of children of Rohm & Haas Co. employees become that it was necessary for Santa Claus to pay two visits to them today, when the annual Christmas party was scheduled.

A total of 1,450 girls and boys were divided into two groups, one attending a gay party at 10 o'clock this morning, and 725 more being scarcely able to wait until one o'clock this afternoon for their turn.

They ranged from toddlers of two years to those of kindergarten stage and on up to junior high age of 12 years. They converged on the Mill street area, bound for the Grand theatre by private cars, foot, and in buses. Laughter and shouts were evidence of the happy time all were having.

The 1,450 marked an increase of about 200 over last year.

The Rohm & Haas Social Club committee, headed by Wayne Woodland had the arrangements in charge, and the committee couldn't have outlined a better party, the first contingent claims.

There were "movie" cartoons; all joined in the singing of carols as four members of Pennell String Band accompanied them; and each child received a gift and a box of candy. The gifts included toys, games, toy animals, and so on. The carolling was led by George Kemmerer.

Naturally, the highlight was when Santa Claus and his reindeer appeared on the stage. Then the rafters really rang!

BORN IN AMBULANCE DURING SNOW STORM

A GIRL FOR CONKLINS

CROYDON, Dec. 15—With the snowed up all along Route 13 last evening while snow was falling, Baby Girl Conklin apparently decided she too wanted to see what it was all about. So she made her debut into this cold world right along Route 13 in front of St. Thomas Aquinas R. C. Church, here, when directions were given by the nurse on duty for the Bucks County Rescue Squad ambulance driver to pull over to the side of the highway and park.

Once the baby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Conklin, 327 Cleveland street, Bristol, was ushered into the world, the ambulance, the crew, and the precious cargo proceeded to Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia. There the weigh-in took place, the baby tipping the scales at 7½ pounds.

Serving as "mid-wife" was Mrs. Earl Wisler, of this community. The birth-time was near when Mrs. Conklin left Bristol, it is stated. "It took us a half-hour, with traffic slowed up, to drive from the Conklin home to a point in front of St. Thomas Church," says Mrs. Wisler. "I asked the driver to pull over to the side of the highway. After the baby was born at 8:30 we continued on our way," says Mrs. Wisler. It took another half hour to reach the hospital, the trip usually taking only 20 minutes in all from Bristol.

Mother and daughter are said to be doing fine. This is the third daughter for the Conklins.

Plans are completed for the Christmas lighting contest, which will take place under direction of Charles Swartz, Jr., Preston Van Ardsalen and Burton K. Benner. Judging of houses will take place Dec. 26th, 27th and 28th from seven to 11 p. m., prizes being: first, $100 bond; 2nd, $50 bond; third, $25 bond.

The territory to be covered is—The Langhorne road to Bridgetown Pike, Buck road to Neshaunmy creek, Swamp road to the entrance to Neshaunmy Farms, Doylestown road to Sutcliffe Corners, on Stoopville road to Dolington, over the Lindenhurst road on the Yardley road, up Lincoln avenue and Creamery road to the Stoopville road. Houses in view of any of these roads or within two miles of this are eligible for the contest. Houses near the area, but not too visible may contact Clement B. Richter, secretary of the association, and their houses will be judged.

It was reported the contract for the traffic light at intersection of Washington avenue and State street has been let.

4-INCH SNOW-FALL SNARLS TRAFFIC THROUGHOUT COUNTY; CARS WITHOUT CHAINS SKID; 2 ACCIDENTS LISTED

One Bus Loaded With Bristol High School Pupils 4½ Hours En Route from Doylestown to Bristol—River Bridge Traffic Tied Up 1½ Hours—Cars from Some Industrial Plants Delayed 2½ Hours on Highway.

The season's first snow-storm, the fall measuring approximately four inches, played havoc with traffic throughout last evening and during the night. Motorists were caught unawares, without chains, and in the lower Bucks county areas practically all of the highways were blocked with traffic for hours, cars moving at only a snail's pace.

Wherever there were hills or slight inclines, motorists experienced great difficulty, and it was due to this chiefly that traffic was blocked during the hours when plants were dismissing their employees for the day. Cars barely crept along the roads. Through Bristol, motorists made very slow progress, and in fact all of the highways leading out of Morrisville were jammed.

Businessmen Approve An Ambulance Project

NEWTOWN, Dec. 15—Newtown Businessmen's Association went on record Tuesday as giving approval of the ambulance project of the Morrell Smith post No. 440, American Legion. The meeting was held in the Temperance House, with Burton K. Benner presiding. The fourth Tuesday evening of each month was decided upon as the meeting night. Considerable discussion was entered into as to the possible closing of State street for repairs.

Plans are completed for the Christmas lighting contest, which will take place under direction of Charles Swartz, Jr., Preston Van Ardsalen and Burton K. Benner. Judging of houses will take place Dec. 26th, 27th and 28th from seven to 11 p. m., prizes being: first, $100 bond; 2nd, $50 bond; third, $25 bond.

The territory to be covered is—The Langhorne road to Bridgetown Pike, Buck road to Neshaunmy creek, Swamp road to the entrance to Neshaunmy Farms, Doylestown road to Sutcliffe Corners, on Stoopville road to Dolington, over the Lindenhurst road on the Yardley road, up Lincoln avenue and Creamery road to the Stoopville road. Houses in view of any of these roads or within two miles of this are eligible for the contest. Houses near the area, but not too visible may contact Clement B. Richter, secretary of the association, and their houses will be judged.

It was reported the contract for the traffic light at intersection of Washington avenue and State street has been let.

The tangle at the intersection with the Lincoln highway in Morrisville was like nothing seen in these parts since the famous Jersey traffic snarl when the zeppelin arrived, back in the Twenties.

The bridge was packed solid, and barely moving. Across the river long lines of lights could be noted, where cars were imprisoned in line, unable to do anything but wait.

As a choice between turning west on the Lincoln highway or going straight ahead for Route 13, I probably made a mistake. Looking west on the highway, cars could be seen as far as the eye carried, a double line. The road south through Morrisville looked reasonably clear.

But the quick and easy travel on Route 13 out of Morrisville was shortlived. Approaching the big curve in Route 13 where it bends right to cross the railroad and canal, and where two back roads turn to the east to the U. S. Steel plant, I entered a jam that beat all the others.

Cars from the steel mill, thousands of them, stretched bumper to bumper as far as the eye could see, moving ahead a few inches at long intervals. Motors stalled, batteries failed, gasoline ran out, adding to the traffic obstacles. Traffic inched across the narrow bridges on Route 13. In an hour I didn't gain more than a hundred yards.

THE DROP IN EGGS

The hen is a gullible creature, the susceptibility of which to deceit has been capitalized upon by poultry raisers ever since the invention of the china egg as a come-on. Smart poultrymen have tried many devices to induce their hens to increase their yield. They have even resorted to such trickery as lighting their henhouses at night to fool the poor hens into thinking it was time to lay another egg. And the hens, willing by nature and desiring to keep up their reputation for being among the most useful of domesticated stock, have extended themselves to fulfill their masters' desires.

Recently the hens have been working overtime again. This time nature has conspired with man to deceive them, if we are to believe the explanation given by a Chicago commission merchant for the drop in the wholesale price of eggs.

It's the weather, he says. The stretch of balminess has convinced the anxious-to-please hens that Spring has come. And that, of course, is when they go into greatest production in anticipation of setting and raising a new crop of Spring chickens and future egg layers.

"The hens possibly are blissful in their ignorance and in the sense of a job well done. There can be no doubt of the bliss of the housewives, hailing the drop in prices of a staple breakfast food that has been ranging around a dollar a dozen. Nature's bounty is welcome, no matter how devious her methods.

WEIGHING IN AND OUT

Minneapolis has revived a quaint old English custom that raises a question of possible connection between politics and girth. It imported a special set of scales to "weigh in" the city's mayor on his assumption of office. His honor's poundage becomes a matter of public record for purposes of comparison when he is "weighed out" at the expiration of his service.

According to the tradition, if the mayor be heavier at the end of his term than at its beginning, he will be convicted prima facie of having loafed on the job. The premise is that energetic and adequate attention to the public welfare should have kept him at least as streamlined as when he went in.

This suggests a basis for the theater conception of the typical politician as a rotund figure of a man. There is an old Latin phrase that has been adopted into our language as a single word and often applied to political jobs—"sine cure." The idea has gained altogether too wide acceptance.

Perhaps the weighing in of all public officials would be a salutary practice. It might help to counteract the disrepute into which public office and public morality have fallen. "Weighed in the balance and found wanting" would take on a new and paradoxical meaning.

Star-Studded Crinoline Decks Candles at Party

The December meeting of Rohn & Haas Sewing Club, in the form of a Christmas party, was held in the Travel Club home on Wednesday evening. A buffet supper was served to 32.

The tables were decorated with greens and in the center of each table stood a tall white candle decorated with layers of crinoline studded with stars. Decorations were in charge of Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mrs. Clarence Wilson, Mrs. Clarence Moyer and Mrs. M. Prottzman.

Two new members were welcomed, namely: Mrs. D. Dempsey and Mrs. K. McCole.

A tape machine recorded the party, and the "play-back" added gaiety to the affair. Carols were sung, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Wiedeman, pianist. The evening was concluded with the arrival of "Santa," impersonated by Mrs. H. Tither, who distributed gifts. The entertainment committee was comprised of Mrs. Richard Bruno, Mrs. Charles Peet, Mrs. Harold Tither and Mrs. H. Stoop. The club decided to help a needy family at Christmas time.

4-Inch Snow-Fall Snarls Traffic Throughout Bucks

less plant had been on the road for considerably more than an hour, trying to get past the first intersection after leaving the mill. They were due, most of them, for a much longer wait, for they were not so lucky as some of us.

"I got out by shortcutting across a strip of field back onto the Penn Manor road. Here for more than a mile I sped past the standing cars of those turned in the wrong direction for escape, and cruised along with no difficulty and only a trifling amount of discomfort."

"I had one final brief taste of traffic tangles. The first gas station I came to, in Tullytown, had a cluster of twenty cars waiting around it to refill the almost-empty gas tanks."

"For those who can't understand just what it was which caused the delay, it was the icy surface on the slightest of inclines, which made it impossible for cars to get up headway after having to stop. At even the smallest of the slopes, cars would slide crosswise, block both lanes, and then very quickly traffic piling in from both directions would produce snarls which would take long delays to untangle."

"Where the cinder squads were I can't imagine. Once cinder were laid, most of the difficulties began disappearing. But I saw cinders only in Yardley and Morrisville. A truckload or two at the narrow bridges on Route 13 over the railroad and canal would, in my opinion, have saved several thousand drivers delays which in many cases ran into several hours."

According to the State Highway Department office at Doylestown two of the worst traffic snarls in the county were on U. S. Route 611 (Easton Pike); and on U. S. Route 202 near New Hope. "The traffic jams at those points were due to cars being minus chains, skidding and tying up traffic," a representative of the department stated this morning. "There was trouble on all hills and grades, and on Route 202 near Warrington three of our snow ploughs were tied up for about an hour because of the traffic jam. There was trouble on the hill south of Doylestown during the early evening."

The State Highway Department had about 55 ploughs out throughout the county, and 35 cinder crews, totalling 150 men. "They started out yesterday afternoon, remained out all night, and are still out," was the report at nine o'clock this morning. It was added however at nine o'clock that "all main roads in the county are in good shape now; and we have our ploughs working on the secondary roads."

At 9:30, however, state police from Langhorne barracks, issued a warning, to individuals to "stay off the highways if at all possible."

It was added that "Highways are slushy now, and starting to freeze."

State police report two accidents due to the storm. At eight last evening a car driven by Frederick W. Caspar, 31, of Dune road, Philadelphia, was travelling west on Lincoln highway, one mile east of Philadelphia city line, in Bensalem township, when it crashed head-on with a car driven by William Speck, 53, of Newportville. Speck sustained contusions of both knees, and possible fractures of ribs; and Caspar has a sprained ankle. Trevoise Rescue Squad took both men to Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia. In an accident at 6:10 this morning on the Lincoln highway, Middletown township, a car operated by Charles J. Thomas, Burke street, Philadelphia, travelling east, skidded, went off the highway and hit the parked car of J. R. Wilson, Langhorne, R. D. 1. Damage to the two cars totalled $125. There were no injuries.

Bristol township police also had a busy time of it. According to Chief of the Township Police Joseph Seader: "Traffic was tied up on the Burlington-Bristol bridge, and on both sides of the bridge for 1½ hours. Cars were also lined up for a mile on State road. Cars of employees of the U. S. Steel Co. were 1½ to 2½ hours late coming down the highway."

This condition lasted until about nine o'clock, says Seader, who also reports two minor accidents. "We were lucky there were no serious accidents," he adds. Many cars were stuck along the side of road-ways after skidding; and traffic jams in the main were due to skidding cars blocking the highways.

Several bridges on Route 13, between Morrisville and Bristol, greatly hindered traffic as motorists found difficulty in driving up the approaches minus chains.

Through Bristol traffic crawled at a snail's pace. The borough forms a bottle-neck for through traffic using old Route 13.

Friday night shopping was somewhat curtailed due to the storm as people remained at home. The telephone switchboard at Bristol police station was exceedingly active in receiving and answering calls of those making inquiries concerning traffic conditions.

A number of meetings were cancelled, including one scheduled by Bucks County Board of Education at Doylestown.

A group of pupils, students of problems of democracy, Bristol high school, had the "longest" ride they have ever had from Doylestown yesterday afternoon and last evening. Three buses had been chartered for the trip to the county seat. After spending the morning at the murder trial in the court house, they visited the Bucks Co. Historical Museum. At 1:30 they returned to court, and no snow was falling. "When we came out about 2:30 there were a couple of inches of snow on the ground," states Charles Boyd, a faculty member. The three buses were delayed for 35 minutes on the hill just south of Doylestown when cars travelling in the opposite direction had difficulty mounting the hill, and traffic became "fouled." Two of the buses, on which Miss Marion E. Peck and Mr. Boyd, faculty members, were riding with the pupils, eventually got through as far as a point south of Bridgetown. At that point cars ahead were jammed on the hill approaching Langhorne. The two buses, as well as some other vehicles, backed up a distance to Bridgetown, made a turn out Legislative route 09028 and crept back to Langhorne via the Yardley road. These two buses reached Bristol at 4:50. The third bus, after getting away from the traffic snarl outside Doylestown, in some manner reached a point in the vicinity of New Hope, and eventually arrived here at seven o'clock.

BRISTOL CLUBMEN'S ASS'N DART LEAGUE
The mutual Aid Society continues on its way to regain the league championship that it lost to the Moose last season. Leonard Egan's team is one of the finest ever assembled in lower Bucks County. His team is averaging over 200 per game. The six teams are widely distributed as the season reaches its halfway mark. In contrast to the impressive showing of the leaders, the last place No. 1 Fire Co. have as yet to win a game. After a recent meeting of the managers, league chairman Frank J. Fuoco announces that the annual dart league banquet will be held around April 1st, 1952.
